

Eastern Brook Trout
JOINT VENTURE
 A Fish Habitat Partnership

Protect, Enhance, Restore 2004 - 2014

10 years conserving the health of our waters

$232 million Economic Benefit to Americans

76 Habitat Projects

200 miles of in-stream and 14 miles of riparian habitat
 157 acres of still, freshwater and 341 acres of riparian habitat
 78 fish passage barriers removed- connecting 205 miles of habitat

St. Mary's River, Augusta County, Virginia

*Long Mountain Brook, Coos County, NH
 Culvert Replacement Before (left) and After (right)*

EBTJV projects demonstrate the strengths of many partners working together to protect water quality, restore wild brook trout, and enhance stewardship and human connections to our natural environment.

$2.9 million from U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
$14.4 million from Partners:
 128 nongovernmental organizations,
 73 state, 62 local and 33 federal agencies,
 40 businesses and 37 academic institutions

Healthy Waters = Healthy People = Healthy Economy